From the desk of the CMO

Milford Campus is live on Epic! I'm appreciative of the work of many people that resulted in a smooth go-live just after midnight, in the very early morning of September 28. I'm especially appreciative of medical staff who provided at-the-elbow support for physicians and advance practice providers...a number of medical staff typically based at the Bridgeport campus spent hours on the Milford campus sharing their knowledge of Epic. Many have described the value that's added to care by having a single record of care across both Bridgeport and Milford campuses as well as all of YNHHS.

I'm pleased to also share with you that Bridgeport Hospital, in conjunction with all of YNHHS, is actively investing in our people this year. Bridgeport Hospital alone is investing millions in ensuring staff salaries are more competitive. At the same time, employee benefits are also being augmented. We think this investment is vitally important for both attracting and retaining the high quality people who work across all locations of Bridgeport Hospital.

The Bridgeport leadership team continuously evaluates our performance against Quality and Safety goals, but this time of year we report year-end performance for the fiscal year. I'm pleased to say that as a result of a cross-continuum, multidisciplinary year-long project, the number of readmissions for heart failure in fiscal 2019 was measurably lower than the number for the previous year. We reduced the utilization of opioid administration in the hospital and reduced by a greater margin the amount of opioids prescribed upon discharge. C. difficile infections were reduced greatly, though we did have slightly more central line associated bloodstream infections than last year.

Finally, I'd like to share with all of you my gratitude for leadership at Bridgeport Hospital provided by Mike Ivy, the first physician to serve as president of any hospital in our health system in memory. I know I'm very far from alone among Bridgeport Hospital Medical Staff in my feeling—he was recognized by many at our recent Medical Executive Committee. The good news is that Mike will be assuming a health system role as associate chief medical officer. He'll continue to be engaged at Bridgeport Hospital as he strengthens connections across all of YNHHS.

Ryan O'Connell, MD, Interim Chief Medical Officer

Caregivers honored by patients

The Bridgeport Hospital Foundation announced the following clinical staff members were recognized by patients in September with a gift to the Honor Your Caregiver program: Michele Attard, LMT (three gifts in her honor); Bridgeport Hospital East Tower 8 Staff; Bridgeport Hospital Emergency Department Staff (two gifts in their honor); Bridgeport Hospital Orthopedic Surgery Unit; Marcy Furano, LMT; Cullen Griffith, MD.

New Medical Staff categories effective October 1, 2019

Upon the recommendation of the Bylaws Committee, Medical Executive Committee and voting medical staff, the Bridgeport Hospital Board of Trustees recently approved changes to the bylaws to rename the medical staff categories.

Your rights and privileges will not change as a result. We have simplified the names and reduced the number of overall categories. The changes to medical staff category names have been made across all five YNHHS hospitals so that the naming convention is consistent. Below is a list of the former category names mapped to the new category names.

For full descriptions of these categories, see the Bridgeport Hospital Medical Staff Bylaws.

Mako robotic arm transforms joint replacement at Milford Campus

The Mako Robotic-Arm Assisted Technology is at the cutting edge of technology for surgical orthopedics. The Bridgeport Hospital Milford Campus was the first facility in greater New Haven, and is currently the only healthcare facility on the I-95 corridor from Norwalk, CT to Rhode Island, to offer this advanced option in total knee replacements. The Mako system has been in use at the Milford Campus since 2017 and has transformed the way joint replacement surgery is performed.

“The Mako allows us to provide each patient with a personalized surgical experience based on their specific diagnosis and anatomy. With the robot, surgeons have the technology and tools to operate with greater precision,” noted Joel Malin, MD, a Mako-certified arthroplasty-trained orthopedic surgeon.

Mako technology also enables surgeons to perform joint replacement surgery with increased accuracy. Through CT-based 3D modeling of bone anatomy, surgeons can identify the appropriate implant size, orientation and alignment. Additionally, the Mako system also allows surgeons to virtually modify the surgical plan intra-operatively.

The demand for joint replacements is expected to continue rising over the next decade. To further enhance its’ orthopedic services and better meet the growing needs of the community, the Milford Campus recently added Mako partial knee and total hip applications. “The acquisition of this additional technology further demonstrates Bridgeport Hospital’s commitment to our community,” said Dr. Malin. “Because of these investments, we can continue providing better, more accurate, surgical experiences for our patients.”

Hot Topics

The next Hot Topics breakfast will be Monday, Nov. 11, 7:30 - 9 am in the Medical Staff Lounge. The speaker will be Christopher O’Connor, executive vice president and COO, YNHHS.

Yale School of Medicine names dean

Nancy J. Brown, MD

Nancy J. Brown, MD, has been named dean of Yale School of Medicine, effective Feb. 1. She will succeed Robert Alpern, MD. Dr. Brown is currently the Hugh Jackson Morgan Professor and chair of the Department of Medicine at Vanderbilt University. She earned her BA in molecular biophysics and biochemistry from Yale University and her MD from Harvard Medical School. After completing her internship and residency at Vanderbilt University, she joined the faculty and has played vital roles in clinical care and research.

Milford Campus clinicians now UpToDate with new app

Remote access to the UpToDate medical resource app is now available on both Bridgeport Hospital campuses. With this app, clinicians may access medical knowledge at the point of care. Whether the goal is finding treatment recommendations, looking up drug information or giving information to patients, UpToDate brings the answers to clinicians at the bedside.

The app provides content for more than 11,000 topics in 25 different specialties. The content is continually reviewed and updated by experts in their respective fields. To learn more, including how to sign up, reach out to medical librarian Todd Lane at todd.lane@bpthosp.org or 203-384-3615.

HealthTech forum Nov. 5

YNHHS employees and physicians are invited to the Center for Health Care Innovation's first HealthTech Forum, 8 am - 3 pm Tuesday, Nov. 5, Zhang Auditorium, Yale School of Management, 165 Whitney Ave., New Haven.

The event, also open to staff, researchers, faculty and student teams at Yale University, seeks to lower the barrier to healthcare innovation and help the next group of innovators translate their ideas into solutions that reshape the healthcare experience. The forum will include education programming and a pitch competition for innovators to present their healthcare innovation ideas to a panel of judges. To attend, register at ynhhs.org/HealthTechForum. Email innovation@ynhh.org with questions.

Medical Staff Executive Committee September 9, 2019

Pamela Scagliarini, executive vice president and COO, for Michael Ivy, MD: For June, operating revenue was behind budget, but operating expenses were also lower, for a net variance of $2 million below target. Non operating results were well ahead of budget, so the overall performance was a healthy net margin of 11.5 percent. High contribution margin items on the outpatient side have been very strong, in particular helped by the success of Smilow at PAMC. Cash on hand has been impacted by the Milford acquisition, which had not been budgeted. The immediate challenge is to deal with the elevated length of stay.

Ryan O'Connell, MD, interim chief medical officer: The Press Ganey pulse engagement/alignment survey results were discussed. There were 348 responses, (approximately) 35 40 percent. Engagement at 4.14 is the 54th percentile, and alignment at 3.96 is at the 77th percentile overall. These results were similar to Greenwich, and higher than the other system delivery networks. The results did not vary significantly when broken down according to gender or the kind of degree, but interestingly, folks who self-identified as belonging to a group that is under represented in Medicine had higher scores, as did residents and fellows.

There was an extended discussion of the Guest and Observer Policy from the Patient Family Advisory Council. The principle is that people who have no role that benefits a patient should not be involved in their direct care. Many MSEC members expressed how important such experiences were personally in their development. It was the strong desire of the MSEC that there be much more discussion with medical staff before such a policy is promulgated.

Kenneth Lipow, MD, president, medical staff: Dr. Auguste Fortin, professor of Medicine at Yale, presented on 'Enhancing Relationship Centered Communication.'

Newsletter submissions
